Fair Play Promise for Teachers by Frank P. Graves

State Education Head Says He Will Give Hearing to All Lusk Law Cases.

missioner of Education, issued an of-ficial definition yesterday of the reasons for and powers of h's advisory council on teathers' qualifications.

Simu taneously, the Teachers' Union, the leading unit in the attack upon the Lisk law, sent a letter to Mr. Graves condemning as unrepresentative the Teachers' Council, the champion of the advisory council.

Mr. Graves's satement has it that there is "an apparent retainmentation."

Mr. Graves's statement has it that there is "an apparent misunderstanding as to the purpose and intended result of the investigation now being conducted by the council or committee appointed by the Commissioner of Education to assist him in carrying into effect the provisions of chapter 666 of the laws of 1921 requiring teachers to obtain certificates of loyalty and of moral character in addition to the other credentials required by law."

acter in addition to the other credentials required by law."

After interpreting the law, Mr. Graves says that the advisory council has no power to deprive a teacher of his or her license and that no teacher will be thus

The members of the committee were selected with care from among those suggested by the representatives of the teachers. They were asked by the Commissioner to serve in an advisory capacity and for the purpose of aiding the Commissioner in reaching a determination as to propriety of withholding the certificates required to be issued under the law.

Cannot Conduct Trials.

"It was clearly understood by the Commissiones and by the committee that the committee was not to hear charges agains' teachers or to conduct trials. They were to give teachers an opportunity to come before them and explain statements that had been made as to either their character or loyalty. The committee was not clothed with inquisitorial powers and has not attempted to exercise such powers.

torial powers and has not attempted to exercise such powers.
"The Commissioner has not delegated, nor could he delegate, to this committee any power to determine as to the issuance or withholding of the qualifying certificates.
"The committee will be expected to present its views to the Commissioner of Education as to the cases which have been examined by it. If the Commissioner determines that the facts warrant it, proceedings will then be instituted to determine the facts, and the Commissioner will himself conclude as to whether the required certificate will be withheld. It should be noted that the law provides that no teacher shall be permitted to

It should be noted that the law provides that no teacher shall be permitted to teach in the public schools of the State unless a certificate under this law has been issued to him.

"To deprive a teacher of this certificate in effect deprives such teacher of his position. It would be opposed to the well established policy of the State Department and to every principle of fair dealing to deprive a teacher of the right to teach under a license without giving him the opportunity of a trial before the Commissioner of Education."

Teachers' Union Protests.

In its letter to Mr. Graves the Teachers' Union tries to convince him that the Teachers' Council does not speak the thoughts of the majority of the public school teachers in New York city. It asserts that the president of the Teachers' Council is a man who does not hold a teacher's license, and whose chief claim to prominence is a Tammany connection.

The Teachers' Union and other units of public school instructors such as the Teachers' Interests Organization, have protested, it is mid, that members of the Teachers' Council be elected by direct vote of those whom they profess to represent and not by delegates in convention. The letter has it that William L. Ettinger made futile pleas to the Teachers' Council to try being more democratic and that the body replied to the effect that it saw no reason to change. In its letter to Mr. Graves the Teach

"One of the most recent acts of the Teachers' Council was the adoption of a proposition to be made to the State Department of Education to establish a 'character committee' to be made up largely of members of the Teachers' Council itself. The proposed function of this character committee is to consider the cases of teachers desiring to enter the service in New York city, and to determine whether these 'new en-

enter the service in New York city, and to determine whether these 'new entrants' are 'loyal and moral' according to the standards of the Teachers' Council. "The Teachers' Union beseeches you as Commissioner of Education of the State of New York to give no countenance to so ridiculous a proposition."
